

Handicap Parking Awareness

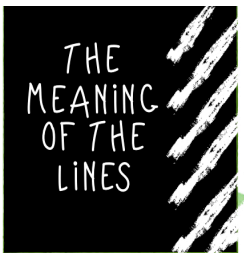

THIS IS NOT

- *To be used to run in somewhere
- *To be used to wait for another individual
- *To be parked half way or partially over

This is part of the space

©5pinkPEONIES.COM

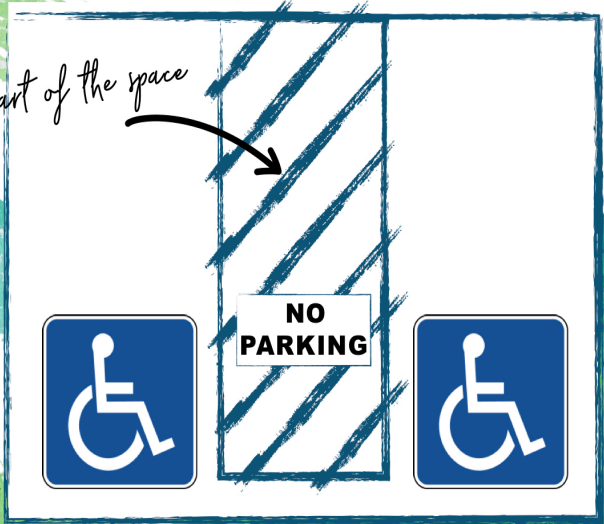

Handicap Parking Awareness

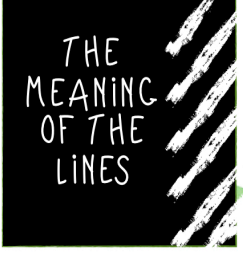

THIS IS NOT

- *To be used to run in somewhere
- *To be used to wait for another individual
- *To be parked half way or partially over

This is part of the space

©5pinkPEONIES.COM

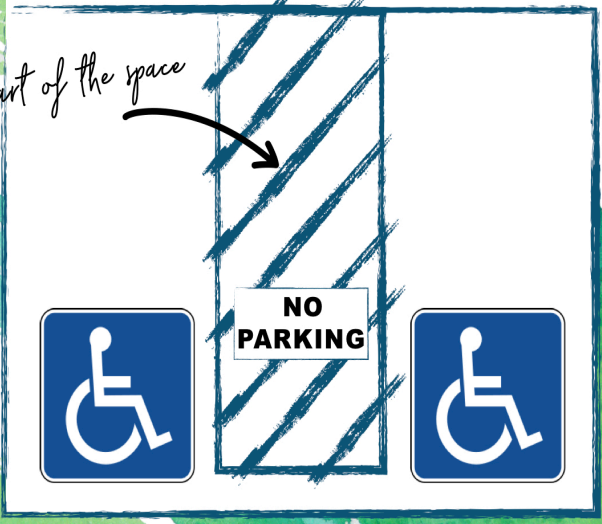

Handicap Parking Awareness

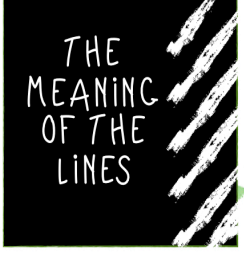

THIS IS NOT

- *To be used to run in somewhere
- *To be used to wait for another individual
- *To be parked half way or partially over

This is part of the space

©5pinkPEONIES.COM

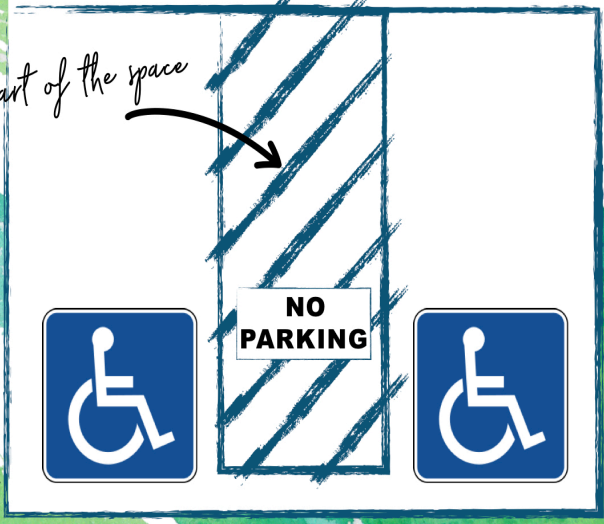

Handicap Parking Awareness

THIS IS NOT

- *To be used to run in somewhere
- *To be used to wait for another individual
- *To be parked half way or partially over

This is part of the space

©5pinkPEONIES.COM

A driver that parks on the lines - for any excuse - is preventing someone who is disabled from entering or getting out of their vehicle. The lines are part of the handicapped parking spot! They are designed for individuals with adaptive equipment and lifts within their vehicles.

#PARKKIND

A driver that parks on the lines - for any excuse - is preventing someone who is disabled from entering or getting out of their vehicle. The lines are part of the handicapped parking spot! They are designed for individuals with adaptive equipment and lifts within their vehicles.

#PARKKIND

A driver that parks on the lines - for any excuse - is preventing someone who is disabled from entering or getting out of their vehicle. The lines are part of the handicapped parking spot! They are designed for individuals with adaptive equipment and lifts within their vehicles.

#PARKKIND

A driver that parks on the lines - for any excuse - is preventing someone who is disabled from entering or getting out of their vehicle. The lines are part of the handicapped parking spot! They are designed for individuals with adaptive equipment and lifts within their vehicles.

#PARKKIND

